

C²P² would like to recognize its partners for outstanding achievements in increasing the amount of coal combustion products (CCPs) beneficially used. Awards will be presented during a ceremony at the National Recycling Coalition Annual Congress and Expo in Atlanta, Georgia in October 2006. Winners will also be recognized on the C²P² Web site. To apply, organizations must:

1) Ensure Eligibility. To be eligible for an award, organizations must meet the following requirements:

- Be a member of C²P²
- Possess no significant environmental compliance problems
- Submit awards application and supplemental information no later than April 30, 2006
- Have accomplished achievement since January 2005

2) Complete the Award Application Form.

3) Compile Information. C²P² requests that partners submit information and supporting materials detailing initiatives related to the increased utilization of CCPs. Please note that submissions should not exceed 10 pages in length. C²P² is looking for activities that relate directly to the following items:

- Innovation — including new uses of CCPs, conversion of a test or demonstration process/project using CCPs to a full-scale process/product, or any other innovative activity.
- Enhanced CCP Utilization — including significant increases in the beneficial use of CCPs or the conversion of an existing use into a higher value application.
- Communication/Outreach — including projects that demonstrate outreach activities to new audiences or significantly impact an existing audience to increase use of CCPs.
- Partnership — including activities that bring groups together to promote or increase the use or acceptance of CCPs.
- Environmental Achievement — based on a demonstration of environmental benefits through reducing greenhouse gases, conserving of natural resources, and/or reducing landfilling related to use of CCPs.
- Research — including research into the use and properties of CCPs.

4) Submit Application and Supplemental Information no Later Than April 30, 2006. Please note that attachments and supporting materials will not be returned.

5) Evaluation — A panel of private/public sector specialists will review each application to determine the demonstrated impact the described activities have had on increased CCP use. The ranking of an application will be determined by the degree of innovation achieved; the actual increase in the amount of CCPs used; the breadth and effectiveness of communication; the number and diversity of partnerships and degree of partner commitment; the degree of beneficial environmental impact; and the significance of new research findings. A successful application will also be well written, and will provide clear measurements of success and data to demonstrate the effectiveness of the applicant's achievement.
